WILL KEEP HIS PROMISE TO REDUCE THE TARIFF

Taft's Statement Taken to Mean That He Will Veto Tariff Bill in Its Present Shape.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—All doubt as to where President Taft stands with regard to the downward revision of the tariff was swept away yesterday when a statement was given out at the White House setting forth in detail what the President had to say to twenty-three Republican members of Congress who called to protest against putting raw material on the free list.

The President declares that the Republican party is committed to a downward revision; that he has never had any other idea of the Chicago platform and that he personally has promised a downward revision to the people.

The statement was interpreted in some quarters here last night as a direct notification to the conferees on the tariff bill that if the measure they finally agree upon does not constitute a material reduction in specific duties the President will veto it.

The story of the conference is outlined in the White House statement, in the third person, which follows:

Taft's Statement.

"Mr. Young, of Michigan, opposed free ore; Mr. Mondel opposed free coal and reciprocity with Canada, and free hides; each on the ground that the policy would injure the interests of his State, and a discussion was participated in by other representatives who urged that the doctrine of free raw material was not a Republican doctrine.

"The President replied that he was not committed to the principle of free raw material; but that he was committed to the principle of a downward revision of the tariff, which he had promised, and that he was obligated to look at the matter, not from the standpoint of any particular district, but from the standpoint of responsibility for the entire Republican party. He said the question in each case was a question of fact, to be determined by evidence as to whether the present duty was needed for protection or whether the rate was excessive, so that a downward revision or putting the article on the free list would not injure the industry.

"He repeated the platform of the Republican party and said he had always understood that it meant a downward revision in many instances, though perhaps in some few instances an increase might be needed; that he reached this construction of the platform on what he understood to be the principle of protection and its justification, namely, that after an industry was protected by a duty equal to the differences between the cost of production and the cost of production in this country, including a fair profit to the manufacturer, the energy and enterprise of American business men and capitalists, the effectiveness of American labor and the ingenuity of American inventors under the impulse of competition behind the tariff wall, would reduce the cost of production, and that, with the reduction and the cost of production, the tariff rate would become unnecessarily high and ought to be reduced.

Will Stand by His Promise.

"This was the normal operation of the tariff as claimed by the defenders of the protective system—not in every case, but as a general rule—that of course a revision of the tariff could not be perfect, must have defects and inconsistencies; but insofar as his influence went, when called upon to act in connection with legislation, it would be thrown in the direction of performing the promises of

DEATH OF MRS. WIENGES.

Expires at Home Saturday Morning at 8:25 O'clock.

Fannie, the beloved wife of Capt. S. H. Wienges, clerk of the circuit court, and one of the most prominent citizens of the county, died at their home in the northern section of the city at 8:25 o'clock Saturday morning, following a long illness of many months.

The deceased had been a patient sufferer for about three years, during which time everything known to medical skill has been done to relieve her of her sufferings, and while she had a complication of diseases her death was due directly to cancer of the liver.

She had passed a number of gall stones recently and it was thought this was the main seat of her trouble, an operation being performed for this immediate ailment, but later it was learned that the cancer was the main and most obstinate trouble. She expired with all the members of her immediate family around her at the time, and had survived from the operation which was performed on Friday at noon, being a successful piece of medical skill.

Mrs. Wienges was in her sixty-first year and had been a resident of this city for over twenty-five years, coming here when quite young. She was identified with the Methodist church, and Rev. F. R. Bridges will perform the funeral services today at the church, to which the friends of the family are invited.

Mrs. Wienges leaves, besides a noble husband, two children, Mrs. Deal, and one son, Charles, both of whom are living in this city, and who were with her at the time of her death.

The hour for the service has been set at 3 o'clock and the following gentlemen have been requested to act as pall-bearers, to meet at the stables of Davis & Oliver this afternoon at 2:30 for the purpose of going to the home: M. S. Cheves, P. G. Ramsey, W. D. Dickinson, W. W. Colson, A. J. DaCosta, L. W. Fennell. Dr. Thomas has charge of the remains.

The interment will be in Evergreen Cemetery, in the family burying grounds.

Attention, Bar Association.

All members of the Bar Association are requested to meet at the court house at 2:45 p. m. today for the purpose of attending the funeral services of Mrs. S. H. Wienges at the Methodist church.

ROBERT E. DAVIS, Pres.

the party as he understood them; and that if iron ore and oil and coal and hides did not need protection and that the conditions were such as to enable the ore producers and the oil producers and the coal producers and producers of hides to compete successfully, without reduction of wages, with the producers from abroad, then they did not need a duty and their articles should go on the free list. It was a question of fact which he hoped to make up his mind with respect to, on such evidence as was available to him in order to carry out what he understood to be promises of the party to the whole people.

"He said he felt that his position as the titular head of the Republican party and as President, with the whole people as his constituency, gave him a somewhat broader point of view than that of a single member of Congress in respect to articles produced in his district. He felt strongly the calls of the country for a downward revision within the limitations of the protective principle and he hoped to be able to respond to that call as he heard it, as well as in the interests of the party as of the country."

Some article that is simply "in the way" at your house might, if advertised, be sold to someone who is anxiously looking for it.

THE SHAH OF PERSIA LOSES HIS THRONE

His Twelve-Year-Old Son, Ashmed Mirza, Is Proclaimed Shah Under a Regent.

TEHERAN, July 17.—Mohamed Ali Shah of Persia, was dethroned today and the crown prince, Sultan Ahmed Mirza, was proclaimed Shah by the National Assembly, composed of the chief Mujtahids and the leaders of the National forces, in the presence of British and Russian representatives.

Mohamed Ali has taken refuge in a Russian summer residence at Gerdik, where he is under the protection of detachments of Cossacks and Sepoys attached to the Zeregunde of the Russian and British diplomatic representatives.

The new Shah is yet in his minority, and Azad Ul Mulk, head of the Kajar family, has been appointed regent.

Teheran Quiet Again.

Sipahdar, one of the most active leaders of the movement, has taken office as Minister of War and Governor of Teheran. Gen. Liakhoff, through whose negotiations with the Nationalists the surrender was effected, was escorted yesterday afternoon by mounted Bakhtiari riflemen to the Parliament building and was greeted with loud applause by the people. He was informed that he might remain temporarily in charge of the Cossacks, provided he strictly obeyed the orders of the War Minister.

The shops and private houses occu-pled by the Shah's soldiers have been plundered.

With the exception of desultory firing by a handful of loyal Bakhtiari in a lane near the British legation, Teheran was quiet last night. The townspeople are taking quite calmly the sudden change in rulers, while the Nationalists are resting, after four days of incessant fighting in the streets of a strange town.

The Shah's decision to place himself under Russian protection was by no means a sudden one. He secured Russia's consent to receive him the day the Nationalists entered Teheran, but made no move until the troops guarding his palace at Baghshah, near Teheran, were forced to retreat to Sultanabad.

Sipahdar, who is wounded, will be taken to the British legation where already there are a large number of refugees, including several Russians.

The provisional government displays the utmost confidence and declares that the monarchy will remain, but under a new Shah.

No decision has been reached as to the disposition of the dethroned monarch, but it is probable that he will be banished and sent out of the country under a Russian escort.

The Shah is 12 years of age. Arrangements had been made to send him to England to be educated.

To Brick City and Return For Seventy-Five Cents

The special train over the Coast Line will leave Gainesville next Tuesday either at 9 or 12 noon, whichever time is best suited to the citizens who are anticipating making the trip.

One of the lowest rates ever secured from here for a special train has been secured, and it will give the people of Micanopy, McIntosh and other intermediate towns a chance to spend the time there, whether they care to accompany the ball team or not.

A rate of 75 cents from Gainesville, 60 cents from Rochelle, 50 cents from McIntosh, and so on down the line as low as 15 cents from Zuber, has been secured, and this train will carry the largest crowd of Oak

Hall "rooters" that ever pulled into any city.

Manager Davis states that he will not be sleeping between now and that time, and he will give us all that we are looking for in the way of ball, for he proposes to make his boys do the work, and is going there with the proper ones to do the stunt.

Parties who desire to go on the regular train can do so, and as many as want to can stay over in the Brick City at night and come up on the early morning train, but all necessary precautions will be taken to see that the crowd is kept in a quiet and orderly manner, and not a repetition of last year's big event, when the game resulted in a

Boll Weevil Not So Bad In the Lone Star State

DALLAS, Tex., July 17.—Prof. W. D. Hunter, the Government boll weevil experts, made public yesterday a statement saying the present status of the weevil is not so bad as at the same time last year. Dry weather is destroying 50 per cent of the weevils.

Following is the summary of Prof. Hunter's report:

In general it has been found that in central and northern Texas prairie regions less than 10 per cent of the fruit is infested.

In the valleys, naturally, the infestation is somewhat heavier; in southern Texas from 10 to 25 per cent of the fruit is infested. In northern Louisiana the infection of fruit ranges from 5 to 10 per cent. In Louisiana, south of Boyce, the infection ranges up to 20 per cent. In Mississippi in the neighborhood of Natchez 45 per cent of the fruit is infested, but the infection decreases to the east and north of that place. Dry weather is now destroying from 50 per cent of the weevils in the squares that fall to the ground in Texas to about 20 per cent in Louisiana. The present status of the weevil is less threatening than last year. This is especially the case throughout Texas on account of the very dry weather.

Sea Island Cotton Firm In Savannah Past Week

SAVANNAH, Ga., July 17.—The Sea Island cotton market was firm the past week, with quotations unchanged. The business was mainly in the higher grades, say choice and above, the lower grades being practically neglected. Sales would probably have been larger but for the very limited offerings.

Crop accounts in the main are still quite favorable, especially from Georgia. There has, however, been rather too much rain and complaints of injury are being received from Florida. These complaints are accompanied by rumors of caterpillars in a few localities.

Sales for the week were 257 bales.

The following prices were based on factors' quotations and are revised weekly on Fridays:

Elks Celebrate Flower Festival in Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 17.—The midsummer flower and allegorical festival and parade of nations were viewed yesterday by thousands of spectators crowded along the five-mile line of march traversed by a procession in honor of the Elks' reunion. Some 10,000 persons took part in the pageant.

All nations were represented not only in costumes, but in music. Scarcely had the shrill piping of the Chinese died away before the blare of trumpeters in Roman attire, or the martial strain or more modern band was heard.

Last night 500 couples, led by Grand Exalted Ruler James U. Sammis and Mrs. Leo Longworth, wife of the exalted ruler of Los Angeles Lodge, participated in the grand march that opened the Elks' ball in the auditorium. The electric circus parade was repeated during the evening.

TREMENDOUS VOTE POLLED IN CONTEST

MISS ESTEL BEAL ADVANCES TO FIRST PLACE IN THE CITY.

Only One Month Remains in Which to Do Your Work and Win the Prizes.

Just one month more and the great Co-Operative Contest will come to a close. All the candidates are now working with renewed vigor in the efforts to land the capital prizes awarded by the business houses of this city.

Aside from the capital prizes, the certificates to be awarded are worth a great deal in the purchase of a new instrument, for it will count as that much from the sale price of any instrument you select, so if you are not the first you might be among the five that will be given these certificates in each section.

The leaders all hold about the same standing as last count, except that Miss Beal leads Miss Goode, for with this exception they advanced all along the line at about the same ratio. In the southern section Miss Lorna McCredie is developing great strength and is holding her lead, while Miss Lucinda Bryant, in the western, has been a steady climber from the beginning of the contest.

Don't fail to take advantage of The Sun's most liberal offer in securing votes—because you can work in this manner while you are at home among your friends, and it will be the means of assisting you wonderfully.

===== BALL DOPE. =====

Are you ready for Ocala?

We are off for Ocala 500 strong Tuesday on a special.

Leeks, the Palatka umpire, is still in love with "Sport" Davis.

Graham, the "cute" shortstop, is still busy sending away p. c.

Get another telegram, Watson, and you will be one ahead of Jack.

Be sure and get your ribbons at Miller's. More red ones on sale.

"Beefy" Bullock says he will be there in Tuesday's game with three hits—but.

"Wampus"—well-known in Sanford as "Lake Wampus," will do the firing stunt Tuesday.

Pete Allen, the musical kid, has a little song entitled, "Will We Shine?"—call for it, girls.

Denton—the ladies' kid—got credit for Jack's two-bagger in Palatka, but he will get his own in Ocala.

"Dusty" Miller and "Liver Lip" Hendricks will have to learn to rise early—no meals served after 10 a. m.

Tim Hendricks, the "Liver Lip Kid," says he will get three hits in Tuesday's game with Ocala—and get the shoes.

Heinz—not the 57 varieties—has some of them, and is making good with the kids—his "ideal" he's still looking for.

Nothing wrong with G. Henry, and he states that if Palatka and her umpire visits here next Thursday he will "mop up"—the ball-dope writers included.

Not since the "balmy" days has baseball taken such a sudden flight, and it is now time to clean out the State—be sure you have 'em first, then go after those swift ones, "Sport."

The Englishman and His "Bawth." "I had a bachelor apartment at one time with an Englishman, who was always talking about his 'bawth, you know," said a New York banker. "The first thing of a morning he said: 'I must take my bawth, you know. Really, now, I must take my bawth—haw, haw!'"

"He did so much talking about his 'bawth' that I stayed one morning to see him take it—to see if it was different from the bath of the American."

"It was. This is what he did: First he spread a soft towel at the bottom of the bathtub, then turned on the water until it was about two inches high.

"So as not to chill my feet, you know—haw, haw!" he explained to me.

"Then he stood on the soft towel in the two inches of water, turned on the spray, sprang through it, leaped out and rushed for a towel."

"He had taken his 'bawth, you know—haw, haw!'"—Washington Post.

S.S.S. HEALS SORES AND ULCERS

S. S. S. heals Sores and Ulcers in the very simplest way. It just goes right down into the blood and removes the cause, and the place is bound to heal because the impurities and morbid matters which have been the means of keeping the ulcer open are no longer absorbed from the blood. External applications of salves, lotions, plasters, etc., can never produce a cure because they do not reach the source of the trouble. At best they can only allay pain or reduce inflammation; such treatment is working on symptoms and not reaching the cause. Every nutritive corpuscle in the blood is weakened or infected, they cannot nourish the fibrous tissue around the place, but instead they constantly discharge into the flesh around the sore a quantity of impure, germ-laden matter which gradually eats into the surrounding healthy tissue and causes the ulcer to enlarge. Since impure blood is responsible for Sores and Ulcers, a medicine that can purify the blood is the only hope of a cure. S. S. S. has long been recognized as the greatest of all blood purifiers, possessing the qualities necessary to remove every impurity from the blood. While curing the sore or ulcer S. S. S. brings about a healthy condition of the flesh by supplying it with rich, healthy blood, and thus makes the cure permanent and lasting. ## T. & J. WILL MAKE SOME EXTENSIONS

NEW BOND ISSUE HAS BEEN MADE FOR THIS PURPOSE.

Some of the Issue Has Already Been Disposed of by Superintendent
Glass on Trip South.

The Tampa & Jacksonville Railway Company have made another bond issue of $480,000, which will be used for the purpose of extending their line south, and also to better equip the road with rolling stock.

Superintendent A. L. Glass, who has had charge of the road for the past year, has been hard at work and has succeeded in disposing of a great many of the bonds to parties in different sections of the State.

As soon as the issue has all been taken the company will buy new equipment and also extend the line south to the Gulf, as per their original intentions, a large part of the road bed having already been built for this purpose.

There is no doubt that as soon as they have sufficient funds to push this new extension the road will prove one of the best paying investments in the State, for it traverses one of the most fertile sections of Florida, and besides the large vegetable business it will take in tracts of timber lands that have never been touched, either for turpentine or timber purposes.

The main terminals and shops being located here, it will mean more for Gainesville, and every business man should lend their assistance to encourage the efforts of the managers in building up Greater Gainesville.

GREATEST OF ALL RACES.

Account of Heartbreaking Struggle from the Atlantic to Pacific.

The greatest of all automobile races started from New York on the afternoon of June 1st to Seattle, Wash. This contest offered a test so severe that one hardly wonders at the difficulty the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific committee experienced in securing entries. There's a difference between this 4,100 mile run and the ordinary sort of contest. If you would appreciate the difference, take down your map of the United States and follow the route. There's many a car can win on a five-mile track that wouldn't last as far as Albany on this trip, and so one knows it better than the manufacturers of cars. Twelve States were crossed, four mountain ranges were encountered, Missouri mud, Colorado mountains, Idaho sand and Washington snow imposed difficulties sufficient that caused the majority of manufacturers to hunt for an excuse to decline.

When the Ford entries were first made for this contest there were comparatively few persons who believed that the little cars would be sent upon so long and severe a journey. Even when the Ford cars appeared at the starting line the consensus of opinion as gathered from the general conversation of spectators was that the toy racers would not go further West than the Mississippi river, it indeed they got that far. The only basis for this opinion was in the light construction of the machines as compared with the big and powerful and high-priced cars. "Those big fellows will run away from the little kids as soon as they get outside of the city," was the general comment. Yet the little fellows led the way into the night controls at Poughkeepsie, Syracuse and Buffalo, and beyond the last-named city practically ran away from their powerful adversaries. When the other cars became stranded in mud holes or held up in mountain passes by difficulties of the trail the Fords still kept going, averaging from fifteen to forty miles per hour over prairie, across mountains and along mud trails that were described as almost impassable. As a consequence the little machine that scores of the "wise ones" had predicted would fall to pieces easily led the way into Seattle.

When it is considered that the average daily runs of these cars exceeded 230 miles, and frequently approximated 300 miles, over the most excitable highways on the continent, the enormity of the feat will be better appreciated.

This victory disposes for all time the calumnious charges that the Ford cars cannot stand the strain of a long journey. The two Fords were the smallest powered and cheapest priced cars that started, and they were always in the van.

Thundering down hill on the last seventy miles of its race, the Ford car No. 2 reached the gates of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition June 22, winning the contest after a drive of twenty-two days and fifty-five minutes. The mud-bespattered machine, with B. W. Scott at the wheel, checked in at 12:55 55 o'clock.

The racing machine was met at Benton, several miles southeast of Seattle, by local motor enthusiasts and escorted through a lane of people that thronged the business streets. At the exposition grounds an immense crowd had assembled, cheering and waving flags in greeting to the triumphant contestant, arrangements having been completed to display the winning car at the fair.

The performance of these little cars, said Mr. Moore, organizer and manager of the contest, "has been a source of ever increasing wonder among those who followed the progress of the contest. The Ford victory is the most remarkable tribute ever received by small cars in this or any country."

A signal tribute to the prowess of these little cars was paid by G. H. Gerrie, who was pacemaker and official in charge of the run from New York to St. Louis. "The tenacity of the little Ford contestants was an eye-opener to me," said Mr. Gerrie. "Though I made the pace in a powerful 6-cylinder car that took the grades as easily as the levels, I found it impossible ever to get away from the midget competitors, on the famous Tribe Hill in the Mohawk Valley and the heartbreaking Ganilius Hill near Syracuse—Ford car No. 2 actually beat the pacemaker to the top."

This Week at Air Dome.

The new Electric Theatre Air Dome is the greatest theatrical event ever known in Gainesville. Its enormous success is due to the fact that at last it is known just what the amusement public want.

The Vincent Sisters have been met with large audiences and their many charms have made their's pronounced the best vaudeville act ever witnessed here. Their return is now asked for by many and answered by the management, which will play their new electrical dancing acts, such as the radium and water display apparatus.

This week will be at their grand double bill. Billy Hanway, the talkative talkologist, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, direct from the Keith & Proctor Circuit, and Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Lester Bernard, one of the greatest wooden shoe dancers in the profession.

The Air Dome is the coolest spot of amusement, in fact, the only one here. Situated directly back of Miller & Vidal's store. Plenty of good seats, and is the home of the public. Nothing to mar anyone's feeling said or done here.

Everyone would be benefited by taking Foley's Orino Laxative for stomach and liver trouble and habitual constipation. ## TELEPHONE TALKS

The Long Distance System

One of the most valuable features of our service, to our subscribers and to the public generally, is our connection with the extensive long distance lines of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the other associated Bell Telephone companies.

We own thousands of miles of long distance lines in the seven States in which we operate and in addition can connect any telephone in our system with lines extending to any other city in which a Bell Telephone system is operated.

These long distance lines are of the most modern and improved construction and are maintained at a high state of efficiency. The Bell systems, operating in various sections of the country, are uniform in their equipment and in their methods of operating.

Only by reason of this close traffic arrangement between the Bell Telephone companies is it possible to go to a Bell Telephone almost anywhere, ask for "Long Distance" and be put in communication with almost any point in the country.

This vast network of wires, radiating throughout the nation, is used daily in commerce and for social purposes by the banker, the farmer and citizens in all walks of life and the plant here is an important link in this great chain.

AGRICULTURE LORE.

The new comer to Florida, who has had to sharpen his wits elsewhere to make the most of the few attractive opportunities in farming, says The St. Augustine Meteor, marvels at the wonderful diversity of paying products which this Eldorado affords. But how many practice what they preach after coming here? We find them running wild after some get-rich-quick crop, forgetful of the fact that there's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip, including the propitiousness of the season for a great yield or the attractions of the market for fancy prices.

As stated in our last, the thriftiness and healthfulness of all stock here upon the range, and its ability to so thrive as to give handsome returns to the owner without exacting of that owner one cent's worth of feed, care or attention, proves, conclusively, the adaptability of soil and climate to the greatest and most substantial money producer to be found in the wide field that takes in, in its scope, everything that is productive of mother earth.

Corn and cotton take rank as the leading valuable products of the soil, yet the live stock sold on farms and slaughtered on them nearly sums up, in value, the sum total of both the cereal and staple crops. True, to corn are the Westerners largely indebted for the finished product of hog and steer. Not only is the corn essential to the Westerners to produce fat in their stock, but it is necessary as a fuel to offset the rigors of the winter's icy breath.

Here, in Florida, the well-balanced ration found in cassava and potatoes, and the protein and carbo-hydrates which so richly abound in the velvet bean, form a perfect combination for flesh and fat-forming substances. And these Florida crops are more cheaply and more certainly produced here than in the West. Nor is this all. Actual demonstrations at the Florida Experiment Station have shown that cassava fattened beef was pronounced by epicures to be superior in every respect to corn meal and cotton seed meal fed beef.

Aside from the desirableness of Florida farmers giving more attention to the rearing of live stock, from a direct monetary standpoint, there are bi-products which result from this industry which are of no small consequence and which needs be taken into account. For instance, the milk and butter and fertilizer.

Humus, so essential in our soils, is being constantly depleted, under the special crop system, and the stimulating effects of commercial fertilizers will fall flat if no thought is given to supplying humus to the soil.

When the intelligent farmer weds to stock he at the same time forms a union with diversified farming, and the diversity of crops will insure a livelier soil and more certain and abundant returns therefrom, while the stock will yield a profit in keeping with anything else produced upon the farm.

The notice of increase in assessment made by the City Council appears in today's Sun. If you are dissatisfied with the valuation placed upon your property you will have an opportunity to be heard by the council on August 2nd.

NEW BUILDING CODE.

Cities and towns throughout the country, through their officials, are making interested inquiries about the new building code just adopted by New York City. The code has set a new standard of safe construction by many municipalities now engaged which, it is thought, will be adopted by many municipalities now engaged in revising their old codes. The effect of this is expected to be a general improvement in building and a saving of millions in the losses by fire.

The specifications governing the standard steel and hollow tile construction have been altered so as to make it even stronger and safer than it has been in the past.

However, the most important feature of the new code is the safeguards which it throws around the use of concrete. Heretofore, on account of concrete's being an experimental material, its virtues and defects not being accurately known, the regulation of its use has been imperfect. In New York, as in other cities, the authorities have allowed concrete to be used in such a way that many fatal collapses have occurred. The rules now adopted will prevent such collapses.

The new code was passed after a series of public hearings in the City Hall. Some of the most prominent builders, engineers, architects and insurance men in the country appeared and presented their views. They offered a volume of expert testimony to show in what way and to what extent the various materials should be used in building. The results of this expert advice are seen in the finished code.

The code goes further than any other has gone in establishing a "definition" of good concrete. It says just what the ingredients should be, in what proportions they should be mixed, and in the case of cinder concrete, it specifies that only "clean anthracite steam boiler cinders" shall be used. The cinders must be washed, thoroughly screened and well graded.

While the code was under consideration the committee in charge of it received a number of letters from building superintendents of other cities, urging the sort of restrictions which have been incorporated. These appeals were made because of the influence which the New York City code would have upon building practice elsewhere.

Frederick Weyerhaeuser, who is reputed to be the largest holder of timber lands in the United States, says that talk of depletion of timber lands is exaggerated and with conservative methods of lumbering and safeguards against forest fires the supply should last forever. But unfortunately, the lessees of timber tracts do not always pursue conservative methods, and forest fires still have a way of occurring.

If property owners would keep their lots clear of weeds and rubbish, allow no tubs, cans or other vessels to remain on the premises with water in them, and in cases of cisterns keep the same covered with a coating of kerosene, there would be far less annoyance from the pestiferous mosquito. A gallon of kerosene sprinkled around the premises will do much to prevent the breeding of mosquitoes.

From every section of Alachua county comes the report that crops are in better condition than they have been for years past. Bountiful crops means prosperity for the farmer, and his prosperity means increased trade for the merchants.

The county seat question having been settled in Sumter county in favor of Sumterville, a handsome new court house will be erected, the old one having been destroyed by fire.

Money has been recovered in two instances during the past week by the use of a want ad in The Sun. A little ad in The Sun will accomplish wonders.

The next regular meeting of the State Board of Pardons will be held on July 29th. There will be no meeting of the Board on August 3th.

The premium list of the Marion County Fair is now ready for publication. How about that of the Alachua County Fair?

Read the want ads in today's Sun.

Doors in China.

In China doors are often round, leaf shaped or semi-circular. In placing them the builder usually avoids having one opposite another lest evil spirits find their way from the street into the recesses of the building. The doorways separating the courts of a garden are usually of an elaborate kind, and the octagonal form is one of the most popular. Religious superstition asserts itself in Chinese architecture, and the universal sacredness of the numerals 3 and 9 is shown in the arrangement of temple doors. There is a triple gateway to each of the halls of the imperial palace, and the same order prevails at the Ming tombs. The Temple of Heaven has a triple roof, a triple marble staircase, and all its mystic symbolism points either to 3 or its multiples.

The Color of Lakes.

Some lakes are distinctly blue, others are of various shades of green, so that in some cases they are scarcely distinguishable from their level, grass surrounded banks. A few, too, are almost black. The Lake of Geneva is azure hued, the Lake of Constance and the Lake of Lucerne are green, while the color of the Mediterranean has been called indigo. The Lake of Brienz is greenish yellow, and its neighbor, Lake Thun, is blue.

Fashion, Not Health.

In nine cases out of ten, says the Iowa Health Bulletin, if a physician tells a woman that in order to improve her health she must wear her clothes in a certain way she will follow the advice of her dressmaker instead.

Vagaries of a Cold.

You can never be quite sure where a cold is going to hit you. In the fall and winter it may settle in the bowels, producing severe pain. In the summer it may give you colic with diarrhoea or summer complaint. Do not be alarmed nor torment yourself with fears of appendicitis or inflammation of the bowels. At the first sign of the pain or cramp take Perry Davis' Painkiller in warm, sweetened water and relief will come at once. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'. It is now put up in a large 35c size as well as the regular 50c size.

DO IT NOW

Gainesville People Should Not Wait Until It Is Too Late.

The appalling death-rate from kidney disease is due in most cases to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms give place to chronic disorders and the sufferer goes gradually into the grasp of diabetes, dropsy, Bright's disease, gravel or some other serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, headaches, dizzy spells; if the kidney secretions are irregular of passage and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they cure where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here's a case at home:

Mrs. A. H. Leonard, 304 E. Nurse and Nursery Combined.
A recent visitor to Brittany describes in the New Orleans Times-Democrat the two story closed bed of the Breton peasant, in many cases a richly carved and ornamented heirloom and always highly prized.

One day the visitor was expressing her admiration of a certain "lit-clos," when madam pulled the sliding panels apart and revealed the figure of her husband sleepily rubbing his eyes and wanting to know what was the matter. She calmly explained to him that the visitor wanted to see the inside of the bed and then explained to the visitor that her good man had been out fishing since dawn and was very tired. The visitor begged him to close the panels and go to sleep again, which he immediately did, but not before she noticed that he was fully dressed. It seems that the Breton peasant always disappears into the "lit-clos" fully dressed and always emerges therefrom in the same condition. While her husband slept madam enlarged on the advantages of a "lit-clos" in bringing up a family.

"I have had six children," she said, "and when they were little I used to put three in the top story and three in the bottom, then close the panels and leave them with an easy mind."

A Singular Meal.
One of the most singular meals ever eaten was that given to a select few by an antiquary named Goebel in Brussels some years ago. The bread was made from wheat grown before the children of Israel passed out of Egypt, and it was spread with butter made when Elizabeth ruled England. For fruit there were apples which ripened before the Christian era, and the wine was older than the white man's knowledge of the new world. The bread was made from wheat taken from a chamber in one of the pyramids, the butter (of which there were several pounds) had been found in an earthen crock on a stone shelf under the icy waters of a well in Scotland. A pantry in the ruins of Pompeii had furnished the jar of apples (which were as sweet and finely flavored as if only a few months old), and the flagon of wine had been recovered from an old vault in Corinth. Six guests enjoyed this amazing meal.—Chicago News.

Going to Law.
The man who goes to law for the purpose of obtaining satisfaction generally gets so many other things that he forgets all about the satisfaction if there is any in it for him.—Chicago Record-Herald.

USE SIGNALS OF INDIANS.

Army Experts Adopt Many Ideas of the Aborigines.

Just as the fighting men of the United States army many years ago took lessons from the Indians and from their methods of warfare devised and perfected the system of extended order or skirmish drills which have proved so effective, so the signal corps of the army has followed to a large extent the red men's methods of conveying information from point to point where there is not time to string telegraph or telephone lines or where wireless telegraph is unavailable.

As the Indians since prehistoric times have used columns of smoke in various combinations to signal the approach of an enemy or to transmit other messages, so the army signalmen have found most effective what are known as smoke bombs or smoke rockets. The former are fired from a small mortar, the latter in the same way as Fourth of July fireworks. Each when reaching a desired height, regulated by a fuse, bursts and liberates a picric acid compound, which ignites and burns colored fires, one after the other, so arranged in the cartridge as to convey a message to those who may be watching for it. These cartridges are made in sections, each containing its own different colored fire, and threaded to screw together in a fraction of a minute.

These military fireworks, as they might aptly be called, are packed in hermetically sealed cans, much in the same manner as tinned meats, with the same sort of thumbscrew attachment for opening them quickly. In this way they keep indefinitely in any climate and have been found particularly effective in the campaigns in the Philippines.

While the navy does not employ so complicated a system of rocket and bomb signaling as does the army, every warship carries a supply of powerful rockets, which liberate on bursting a series of brilliant white stars for the purpose of calling attention to other signals which are transmitted by a system of combinations of colored electric lights strung from a masthead and operated from a switchboard much on the plan of a typewriter, called the Ardois system. But both branches of the service employ an odd sort of pistol, the invention of a naval officer, which shoots from cartridges "stars" similar to those of a roman candle of any color. The combinations which can be made in this manner practically are numberless.—Popular Mechanics.

Help for Those Who Have Stomach Trouble.

After doctoring for about twelve years for a bad stomach trouble, and spending nearly five hundred dollars for medicine and doctors' fees, I purchased my wife one box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which did her so much good that she continued to use them and they have done her more good than all of the medicine I bought before.—Samuel Boyer, Folsom, Iowa. This medicine is for sale by all druggists. Samples free.

Aroused Her Curiosity After All.
"Don't want any," said a housekeeper from her second story window to a street vender whose covered wagon was standing a few steps away and who had just pulled the bell.
"Don't want any what?" gruffly asked the vender, who hadn't had even a chance to tell what his wares were.
"What have you got?" asked the housekeeper, whose curiosity was getting the better of her asperity.
"Oh, never mind. You don't want any. Git up, Bob!"
"Now, I wonder what that exasperating man is selling, anyhow!" she exclaimed as the wagon disappeared around the corner.—Exchange.

Find Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Winchester, Ind. — "Four doctors told me that they could never make me regular, and that I would eventually have dropsy. ## Silenced Him.

The young man in the barber's chair had been annoyed by suggestions of the white coated artist, although he had said clearly enough when he sat down that he wanted only a hair cut and a shampoo. Singeing, facial massage and hair tonics had been offered vainly.

Finally the barber perpetrated what is with barbers the crowning insult. Passing his hand over the young man's face, he said contemptuously:

"Shave yourself, don't you?"

"Sure," said the young man. "Don't you?"

And there was silence.—Washington Post.

FATE OF THE BRAAKE.

A Treasure Ship That Lies Buried Off Cape Henlopen.

Somewhere in deep water off Cape Henlopen lies over half a million in British gold, and how much more in gold and silver bars and plate and other treasures can only be guessed at. In 1798 the British privateer Braake sailed for the west Atlantic bearing enough gold to pay off all the English troops stationed in various parts of the new world. As the soldiers had not been paid in many months the sum was a large one.

Whether the captain of the Braake decided to turn pirate or whether he merely was showing excessive zeal in making war on all the enemies of England that he met on the high seas and intended to turn over his loot to the crown on his return will never be known, but the fact that the Braake took no prisoners and sank every prize goes a long way toward proving the piracy theory. The Braake captured a Spanish merchantman coming up from South American ports laden with rich tribute from the Spanish colonies there, transferred the precious cargo to her own hold and burned the vessel. Another Spanish ship bringing a church service of richly jeweled gold plate to a new world cathedral encountered the privateer and suffered the same fate. The next to fall a victim to the Braake's rapacity was a Frenchman carrying silks, spices, brandy and bars of silver. That, too, was sent to the bottom after it was spoiled.

The Braake was overtaken by a hurricane when nearing the American coast, was blown far out of her course and sank off Cape Henlopen. Several of the crew escaped in a small boat and reached land. Their tales of the treasure on the sunken ship caused several expeditions to be fitted out the following year, but nothing was brought up save pieces of the anchor chains and a cannon or two. During the last hundred years every effort to raise any part of the treasure has failed.

The last attempt was made by Captain Charles Adams, who fitted out a ship under the auspices of the navy department, but was unable to locate the wreck, which is probably by this time deeply submerged in the ooze and mud of the ocean bed.—New York Press.

A PERILOUS PERCH.

Two Nights on a Ledge of a Lofty Peak in the Tyrol.

In the northeastern corner of the Tyrol is the best place in Europe, writes W. A. Ruffell-Graham in "Tyrol." The region has many lofty peaks, which make mountain climbing of interest. The author gives one of his adventures on a peak near the village of Kitzbuhel.

On one of these peaks occurred to me many years ago a little adventure which gave me an opportunity of admiring the grand view rather longer than was pleasant.

I was out stalking chamois, and, having some unoccupied hours in the middle of the day, when stalking is practically useless, as the beasts are resting, I thought I would ascend one of those pinnacles upon which at that time few human beings, I suppose, had ever set foot.

The very last bit was a smooth faced rock not more than twelve feet high, but absolutely unclimbable if unaided by rope or another man upon whose shoulders one could get and so obtain a hand grip of the top and thus draw oneself up. As I was alone I had recourse to a short length of rope I had in my rucksack. Making a slip noose I threw it upward till it gripped some projection. Then I drew myself up.

While looking about me an unfortunate movement of my legs, which were dangling over the brink as I sat, caused the rope to slip and fall down to the small ledge on which I had stood when flinging it upward. This ledge or band of rock was uncomfortably narrow, not wider than thirty inches, and the abyss below was a perpendicular wall four or five church steeples in depth.

At first it did not seem such a serious fix to be in. By letting myself drop to the ledge, my extended arms gripping the top, the distance between the soles of my feet and the ledge was not more than four feet or so—nothing to speak of if that yawning gulf had not been there and I had had boots on my feet. But, having taken these off and left them below, together with my coat and rifle, I should have to drop on to sharp rocks barefooted and hence would be very apt to lose my balance.

The more I considered the position the more I funked that drop, and, to make a long story short, I stayed on that pinnacle two nights, until the morning of the third day, before hunger drove me to risk the drop, which I did in safety.

How I got down the remainder of that descent, "slimming" down chimneys and creeping along narrow edges, was a mystery to me afterward, for I was faint with hunger and my knees trembled and shook under me. When I reached the first habitation where I happened to be known the peasant woman at the door hardly recognized me.

A BUSINESS EXTENDER.

The Kind of Man For Whom There is a Big Demand.

"I am looking for a clerk, a man with a personality, a man who can do things and increase my business. Money is no item. I will not take salary into consideration. I will pay $100 $125 or whatever he is worth. I want the man." That is what a successful merchant said some days ago.

Let us pay our respects to the merchant who is looking for a clerk of this kind. A good clerk deserves a good salary and usually gets it. This matter of good pay for good services is the basic principle of the relations between employer and employee. While all merchants are not willing to pay enough salary to their clerks, there are more merchants who are glad to pay all a clerk is worth than there are clerks who are glad to be worth all they are paid.

Every village, town and city is looking for the man who can "increase business." The man who will work for the interests of his employer is wanted the world over. The world of business is crying out for such men for men whom it can trust and in whom it can place confidence that a thing will be done when the "boss" back is turned. This man is wanted in every store, factory, at every post and in every great business in the land.

If you are attempting to avoid responsibility and as much work as possible you will, unless by great mistake, create promotion or increase in salary. There are two kinds of clerks, and only two kinds. One the entire business world is anxiously searching for, and the other the entire business world is anxiously waiting to get rid of. —Twin City Commercial Bulletin.

Many people with chronic throat and lung trouble have found comfort and relief in Foley's Honey and Tar. It cures stubborn coughs after other treatment has failed. E. M. Hennessey, Treasurer, Iowa, writes: "The doctor said I had consumption, and I got no better until I took Foley's Honey and Tar. It stopped the hemorrhages and pain in my lungs and they are now as sound as a bullet." J. W. McCollum & Co.

Where Women May Not Pray.

In some parts of the world the women are not even allowed to pray. Certain Hindu congregations deny their women that privilege, and during the Hindu festival of the "Kumbh Mela" the women are not only not allowed to pray, but are even forbidden to look upon the temples. The natives of Madagascar, however, stretch a point and permit their women to intercede with the powers of evil, but prayer to their supreme being is strictly a masculine prerogative.

The world's most successful medicine for bowel complaints is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It has relieved more pain and suffering and saved more lives than any other medicine in use. It is valuable for children and adults. Sold by all druggists.
